

edcanvas

The one place to organize, present and share knowledge

What is it? Edcanvas provides a simple and fun way for teachers and students to gather and learn from multimedia content.

How should I use it? With a canvas, the possibilities are endless! Flipped classroom, project-based learning, and student presentations are just a few ideas of what Edcanvas enables.

Woah, cool! Where do I start? Just go to <http://www.edcanvas.com> and you get started in less than a minute. Teachers and students can sign up for free!

Edcanvas is the one place to organize, present and share knowledge. Learn more at www.edcanvas.com.

How teachers are using Edcanvas

Flipping the classroom

Easily find, add and share online content (videos, images, PDFs, Google docs). Students comment or take notes on what was learned.

Student assignments

Research assignments. Web quests. Presentations. Have students use Edcanvas to practice and demonstrate 21st century learner skills.

Dynamic presentations

No more boring PowerPoints or slaving away many hours on Prezi. Create new engaging presentations or augment your current ones with multimedia content.

How to sign up

1

Go to <http://www.edcanvas.com>

2

Sign up as a teacher or a student

Edcanvas is the one place to organize, present and share knowledge. Learn more at www.edcanvas.com.

How teachers get started

The screenshot shows the Edcanvas website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the Edcanvas logo, a search bar, and links for 'Recommend Edcanvas to your friends!', 'Gallery', 'Account', and 'Sign out'. Below the navigation bar, the main heading is 'My Canvases'. On the left, there's a large blue square with a white plus sign, labeled '1 Create a new canvas'. Below this, there's a section titled '★ Featured canvases' with three featured items: 'Photosynthesis' by Robert Hoffman (1936), '2012 Elections - Fl...' by Oscar Semb (1797), and 'Reviewing Parts of...' by Joan Mancini (1863). On the right, there's a 'My Classes' section with a search bar labeled '3 Search canvases created by the Edcanvas community'. Below the search bar, there's a 'Unlock your class' button and an 'Add Class' link. At the bottom, there's a footer with 'Contact us!', a phone number '213-260-0373', social media links for 'Like' (284) and 'Follow @edcanvas', and a copyright notice '© 2012 Edcanvas'. A fourth step, '4 Create a class to invite students to create canvases', points to the 'Add Class' link.

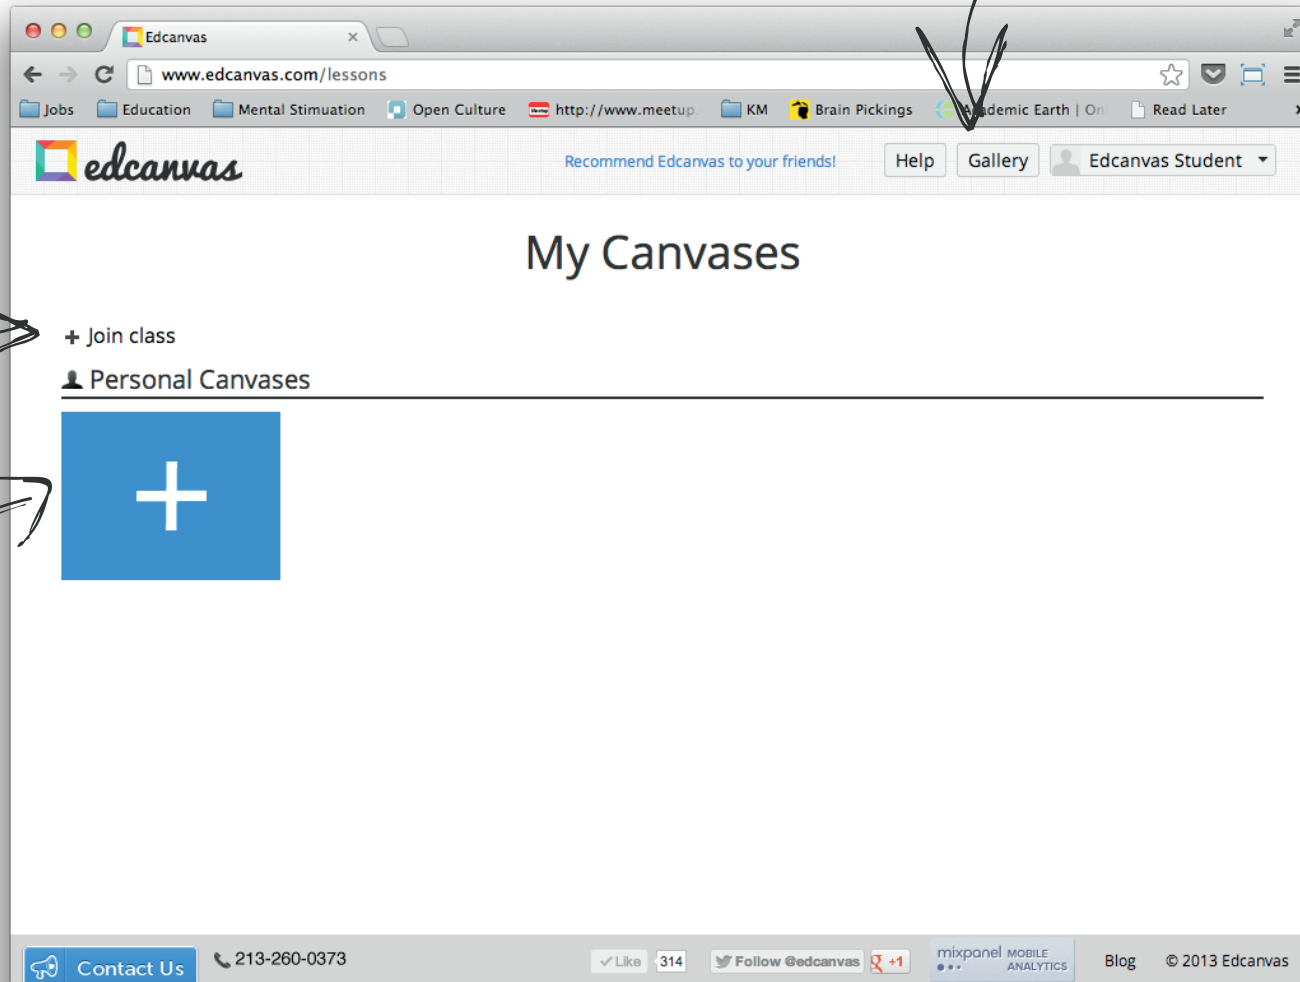

- 1 Create a new canvas
- 2 Discover other canvases
- 3 Search canvases created by the Edcanvas community
- 4 Create a class to invite students to create canvases

How students get started

1
(optional)
Join your teacher's class

2
Create a canvas

3
Find canvas inspirations
by exploring our gallery

How to create a canvas

The screenshot shows the Edcanvas web interface. The main area is a grid for creating a canvas. On the right, there is a search bar and a list of search results. Annotations with red circles and arrows point to specific features:

- 1 Pick a content source (points to the search bar)
- 2 Search (points to the search results)
- 3 Drag your content.... (points to a search result titled "Plate Tectonics")
- 4 ... then drop your content! (points to the "Drop your resource" button in the grid)
- 5 Double-click to add text (points to the "Double click to add text" button in the grid)

The interface includes a top navigation bar with links like "Tutorial", "My Canvases", "Account", and "Sign out". The main header says "Enter the lesson title". The grid has a "Drop your resource" button and a "Double click to add text" button. The search bar has a placeholder "ex: oceans". The search results show a card for "Plate Tectonics" with a description: "This text from the US Geological Survey provides more information about plate tectonics."

How to present a canvas

3

Present it

4

Share it

1

Change its appearance

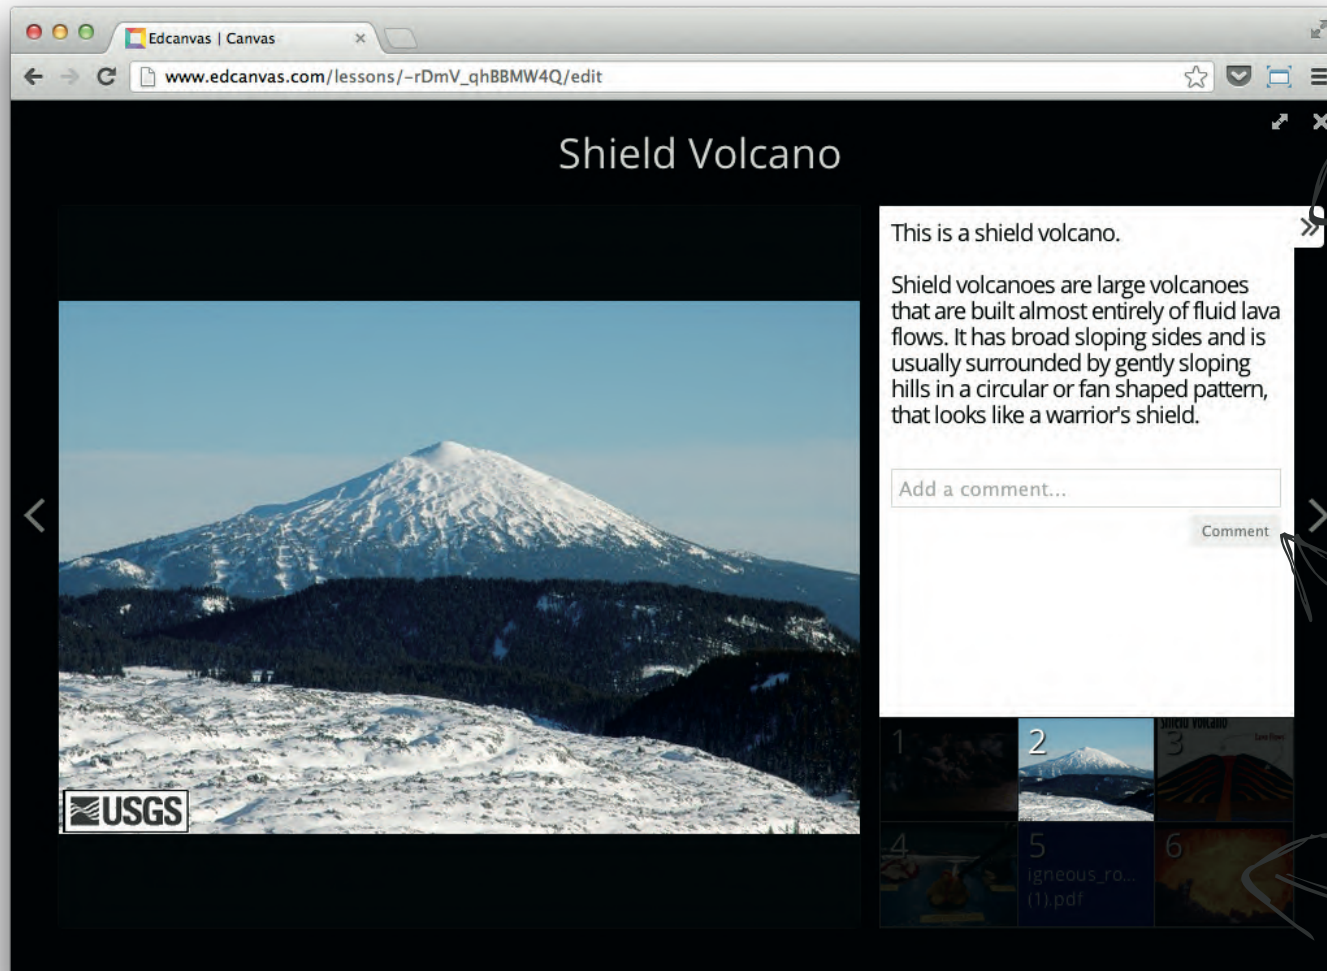

2

Add notes to each resource

The screenshot shows the Edcanvas web application interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the Edcanvas logo, a 'Recommend Edcanvas to your friends!' button, and links for 'Tutorial', 'My Canvases', 'Account', and 'Sign out'. Below this is a toolbar with 'Templates', 'Themes', 'Play Canvas', 'Autosaved', and a 'Share' button. The main canvas area is titled 'Volcano' and contains three resources arranged in a row. Each resource has a number and a title: '1 The Most Incred...', '2 Enter label Volcano', and '3 Volcano Hazard...'. Each resource also has a description field and a set of icons for editing. The first resource features a video player icon. The second resource features a diagram of a volcano with labels like 'Summit', 'Crater', 'Flank', 'Conduit (pipe)', 'Branch pipe', 'Rock layers earth's crust', and 'Magma chamber'. The third resource features a map of the United States with the text 'EXPLORE the United States Volcanoes'. To the right of the canvas is a sidebar with a 'YouTube search' section, a search bar with the placeholder 'ex: oceans', and a 'Search' button. Below the search bar is a section titled 'Drag' with the text 'Add your resource to the canvas.' and a list of resources, including 'Plate Tectonics' with a thumbnail and a description: 'This text from the US Geological Survey provides more information about plate tectonics.' At the bottom of the canvas, there's a '+ Add row' button. The footer contains a 'Contact us!' button, a phone number '213-260-0373', social media links for 'Like', 'Follow @edcanvas', and 'g +1', and a 'mixpanel MOBILE ANALYTICS' logo. The footer also includes a 'Blog' link and a copyright notice '© 2012 Edcanvas'.

When presenting...

1
Navigate using the arrows

2
Collapse the right pane to display more of the content

3
Make
comments

4
Use the mini-map to see what's ahead

Have comments, questions or feedback?

Contact us using the blue button the the lower left corner.
We love hearing from teachers and students!

Edcanvas is the one place to organize, present and share knowledge. Learn more at www.edcanvas.com.